

FROM THE TRAVEL DESK

Dear Kirsten,

In the coming days, I will be headed to Las Vegas for the travel industry equivalent of fashion week: Virtuoso Travel Week! Consider it the ultimate luxury travel shopping trip!

From August 13 - 19, I will have appointments with the top executives and owners of the best hotels, cruise lines, and tour companies worldwide. Building these relationships is integral to helping you DISCOVER MORE about the world as you travel.

Please take a moment (maybe with a cup of coffee or glass of wine) to dream about your travel possibilities. What trips have piqued your interest? What destinations have caught your attention?

Respond to this email with your personal "wish list" of the experiences you're dreaming of and I will use it to keep an eye out for your travel interests during my meetings!

Warmly,

Kirsten

WANDERLUST INSPIRED

Many travelers admire the beautiful images of French Polynesia: clear turquoise waters, towering green peaks, stunning overwater bungalows, and smiling locals living their best lives. The destination is so exotic that it seems to be one of those far-flung bucket list trips rather than just a terrific destination that need not be saved for "someday". I waited too long for an excuse to go the distance (empty nest, check; wedding anniversary, check) and worried about being letdown from twenty years of anticipation. But these islands did not disappoint! Read more about paradise on my blog. Book now for 2023 and grab an introductory fare on the Air Tahiti Nui direct routes launching from Seattle.

SUSTAINABILITY FOCUS

One&Only Mandarin is a stunning ecohaven nestled into the hillside of Riviera Nayarit's lush coastal rainforest near Puerto Vallarta. Opened in late 2020, the resort feels like it has been there for years with the dense natural foliage preserved during construction. Birds and butterflies aplenty, drinking water in glass bottles, resort shuttles to transport commuting staff, and farm-to-table cuisine across several restaurants. There is plenty to do or choose nothing at all; the glamorous accommodations and dramatic infinity pools are the perfect excuse to lounge.

Your upcoming travel adventures are just one click away.
